

My hypothesis is that the multibranched tree is a result of the fact that the process of speciation is not strictly bifurcating.

It is true that the data suggest a bifurcating tree.

The simple bifurcating tree is a reasonable approximation.

The multibranched tree is a more complex model.