

Handwritten header text, possibly a name or title, written in a cursive script.

Handwritten text block, likely the beginning of a letter or document, containing several lines of cursive script.

Handwritten text block, continuing the cursive script from the previous section.

Handwritten text block, containing several lines of cursive script, possibly including a signature or a specific address.

Handwritten text block, continuing the cursive script, possibly a closing or a final note.