

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is mirrored and difficult to decipher due to the bleed-through effect. A large, dark, vertical smudge or shadow is present in the center of the page, partially obscuring the text.