

on the part of the Government to support a movement which would be a step towards the realization of the ideal of a more democratic and more efficient Government
in the United States
and in the world
generally. It is the duty of every citizen to support
such a movement
and to do all in
his power to bring about its realization.