

mountainous regions of the north of Europe and Asia. The mountains are composed of granite and gneiss. The mountains of the Alps and the Pyrenees are composed of limestone and marl. The mountains of the Andes are composed of volcanic rocks. The mountains of the Himalayas
are composed of granite
and gneiss. The mountains of the Rockies are composed of limestone and marl.