

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is written in a cursive script and is mirrored across the page.

